

SKUNKED

Arnold Bingham was the son of George Bingham, who built and operated the Brick Store. Arnold attended the brick school around 1915. On their way to school, Arnold and his friends would try to catch a skunk and get bathed in the terrible odor so the teacher would send them home.

